

Victorian Women Writers Project

Stephen Miller

AAC / ÖAW

Texts & Files WS 2004

Victorian Women Writers Project (1995)

o <http://www.indiana.edu/~letrs/vwwp/>

Background

- Perry Willett. "The Victorian Women Writers Project: The Library as a Creator and Publisher of Electronic Texts," Public-Access Computer Systems Review 7.6 (1996): 5-16
 - <http://info.lib.uh.edu/pr/v7/n6/will7n6.html>

Access (Technical)

Victorian Women Writers Project

First, you must choose one mode of access:

1. HTML (for all WWW browsers)
2. TEI (SGML files for use with Panorama under Windows)
3. More information about the choices

Proceed to Collection

To the VWWP Home Page

Access (Intellectual)

- Carol Poster, "Oxidization is a Feminist Issue: Acidity, Canonicity, and Popular Victorian Female Authors," College English 58, no.3 (March 1996): 2.

19th Century Writing by Women

- Extensive
 - Little recognised by academic research
- Uncollected
 - University library holdings unrepresentative
- Not present
 - English Poetry Full-Text Database (4.0) 1995
 - Based on NCBEL1940/1969–77
- Physically decaying
 - Acid-based paper (pulp)

Other Projects

Brown Women Writers Project (1986)

- (1) Women Writers Online (1999)
 - <http://www.wwp.brown.edu/index.html>
- Period covered 1400–1850
- Transcription / Editing Methodology
 - http://www.wwp.brown.edu/texts/help/ed_principles.html
- (2) Renaissance Women Online
 - Teaching resource

Synergy

- (1) Early Modern Womens Studies
 - Recognition of the numbers of active women writers
 - Wrote in all genres
 - Material inaccessible
 - Anthologies covered later periods
- (2) Text Encoding
 - Descriptive markup

The Orlando Project

- Geographical focus
 - British Isles
- Covers 1340–1980
- <http://www.ualberta.ca/ORLANDO/>